

Encouraging Natural Development from Infancy through Preschool

Edward-Elmhurst Pediatric Series

Join Edward-Elmhurst Health's occupational, physical, and speech therapists to learn more about how you can promote and support natural childhood development.

Topics will include:

- Age appropriate progression of gross motor, fine motor, language, cognitive and self-help skills
- How to identify when your child would benefit from more support for key developmental skills
- Strategies you can use at home to promote optimal development and address areas of concern

Who is invited?
